1. I am doing something new, never before seen on the earth; me in the fullness of me, I Am. I am coming in newness the worlds shake at/in. I love you/tell you the truth, you are the truth: I Am. Those that that think me not can wallow in their miry clay.

2. I love you/them but tell them I Am and I am coming inside them the likes of never having been seen/imagined, real or unreal. Past the mind of man I come. I inherit all things not but I surrender to/into them. I make/am all things new, newlified, new and lifted up to me in me being me. I love you all. Amen. Watch me. I love you.

3. Watch me make all things new/all things new in your life Ted. My own. I love you/him/me/us, one. And this is what I'm doing for the who-will-let-me, who want me desperately, with lovingkindness in their pores for their others who around them are, in them are, upon them look, and seek the answer,s; me, I Am, in them, being them; all us one not, but becoming so/now herein. I love you.

4. Who can imagine what I'm about to do with one so simple; elegant not, pure, simple. I love you/him.

5. It is upon me to do the will of me father, they say/become so in doing; saying, not only, but doing/becoming/surrendering to/in to meship that reigns now upon the earths in lovingkindness and meekness-structures only me.

6. Who can see the me becoming me right in front of their mirrors? In front of all who see them, not; ALL who see them, seen and unseen seeing/who see them, feel their pain not, in suffering the same, but yet who can tell/see what is going on/happening actually/really, in the real kingdom of the real? I love you. I love you all.

7. This is the now me'd meship rising in the earth, upon the earth; the earth bowed down before me, not in/as thought, but in reality, rising as me/the morning star, bowed down no longer, no longer yoked; freed freedmen freeing others; men women children being free'ers, freers, freers, FREE-ERS! I love you all.

8. Go in peace, rise, all; into me, being me, for me you us; one being/becoming, and the earth melts not in thought. I love you all/me being me, you all; one, I Am me, at last. Amen.
